

Autism Anglia Conference and Information Day

Thursday 27th June 2019
University of Essex, Colchester

A full day of talks, Q&A session, interactive workshops and a marketplace packed with autism services and information. The day is suitable for:

- » Individuals, Parents and Carers
- » Education, Health, Social and Public Sector professionals

Tickets from £20 - £50

Visit our website for ticket sales and full details of the day. For all enquiries call 01206 577678 or email training@autism-anglia.org.uk

See overleaf for more information.

www.autism-anglia.org.uk

Keynote Speakers

Dr Sarah Griffiths of the University of Cambridge is Consultant Clinical Neuropsychologist and a Research Associate on the 'Autism and Vulnerability Project', which is funded by Autistica and the Autism Research Trust. Sarah will be talking about this project on the day. The project involves working closely with the autism community to identify key areas of vulnerability in people's lives and looking at the consequences of different types of vulnerability on mental health outcomes.

Dr Fiona Gullon-Scott is a Consultant Chartered Psychologist with 25 years' experience researching, training and doing clinical work with autism spectrum presentations. Currently a lecturer on the Clinical Psychology Doctorate at Newcastle University and an Associate Senior Lecturer with the Tizard Centre, University of Kent, Fiona will be talking about anxiety in autism and its various ways of presenting, possible underpinnings, current research and potential interventions. She will discuss anxiety in both children and adults.

A choice of 12 workshops, including

- » Diagnosis for adults
- » Education: what parents need to know
- » Welfare and Benefits Advice
- » Classroom Strategies
- » Music Therapy and Autism

Prices

- » Autism Anglia Members £20
- » Individual Tickets £25
- » Not for Profit Organisations £40
- » Professionals £50

